IMPORTANT NOTICE and LATEST UPDATE ON REGATHERING IN-PERSON SERVICE SCHEDULE:

SUNDAY, JULY 18TH AT 9 AM

Our first in- person service in the Stone Church will be held on Sunday, JULY 18th at 9 AM.

Beginning Sunday, July 18th, our services will be live in-person in the church at 9 AM, as well as live-streamed on Zoom. MASKS must be worn by any person over 2 years of age who worships inside the church, whether or not he or she has been vaccinated. Please follow the directions of the ushers regarding entry, seating and exiting procedures. The service time will continue through the summer as a way to mark our identity as a single community after experiencing the isolation of the COVID pandemic.

We will continue to have the Sunday services online via Zoom for those who are unable to attend in-person.

The Regathering Committee, Vestry and I are deeply appreciative of the patience and diligence everyone has continued to practice during this unprecedented time. By doing so, we are offering gifts of hospitality and grace not only to those whom we know, but to all with whom we come in contact – especially as we slowly begin to regather with those who are able to attend in-person worship.

Thank you very much. – The Rev. Deborah Warner, Rector

LEARN, PRAY, ACT

Responding to Systemic Racism and Violence as People of God

The confluence of the inequities revealed by COVID-19 and the systemic racism evident in recent acts of violence calls us to speak out, to fulfill our duty to protect the dignity of every child of God and to love our neighbors as ourselves. As our Presiding Bishop Michael Curry wrote, "Love does not look like the silence and complicity of too many of us who wish more for tranquility than justice." Justice is love in action.

Most of us have a societal advantage that comes with being seen as the norm in America. It makes life smoother, and it's something we would barely notice unless it were suddenly taken away or didn't apply in the first place. We are in a unique position to make a difference by developing an awareness of systemic racism and fostering anti-racism in whatever we do and wherever we go. It takes some education, a lot of prayer and a willingness to step out of our comfort zone.

Here are some suggestions from the Episcopal Church under the categories LEARN, PRAY, ACT. One size does not fit all, but it's a start. Hopefully these resources will stimulate ongoing conversations. Learning requires discernment. Prayer requires waiting upon God. Action is the fruit of these disciplines. Together, they provide us an opportunity to grow.

LEARN

- Read "The Meaning of July Fourth for the Negro," a speech by Frederick Douglass before the Ladies' Anti-Slavery Society of Rochester, New York, July 5, 1852. Douglass (1817-1895) was an American social reformer and statesman. After escaping from slavery in Maryland, he became a national leader of the abolitionist movement in Massachusetts and New York, becoming famous for his oratory and incisive antislavery writings.
- Skim Autographs for Freedom, a collection of anti-slavery testimonies compiled by Julia Griffiths in 1852 on behalf of the Rochester Ladies' Anti-Slavery Society. Griffiths, a British abolitionist, was a friend of Frederick Douglass.

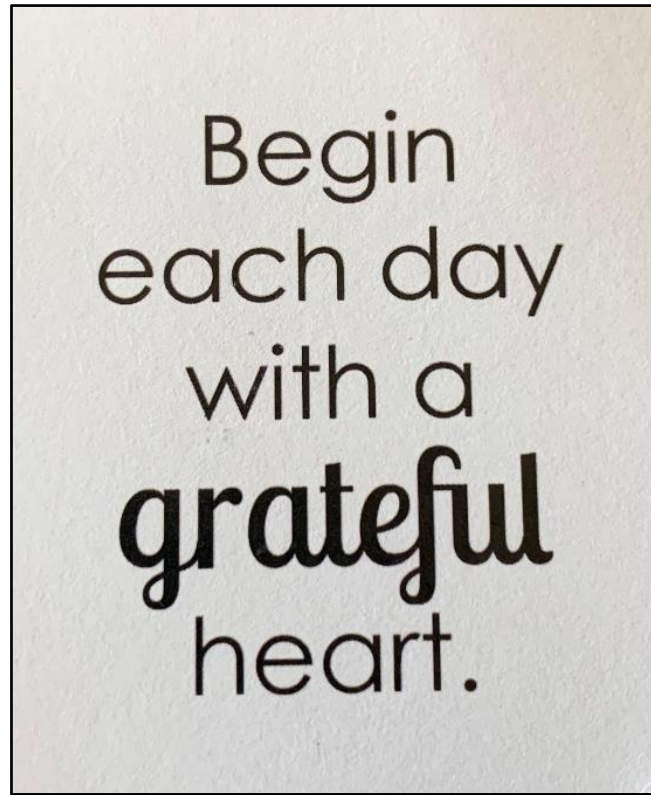

PRAY

Pray Excerpts from an Independence Day prayer by Bishop Alexander Viets Griswold, 1766-1843: O holy, righteous, and immortal God: we beseech thee to continue your merciful goodness to us and to our country. Give wisdom and strength and union to the government and people of these United States. May we be preserved from a trust in ourselves and from all vain confidence of boasting. May we never use our liberty for a cloak of maliciousness; but follow after charity and the things that make for peace. Preserve us, O Lord, from desolating judgments; from selfishness, discord, and contention. Be merciful to those who need the blessings we enjoy. We ask these things in the name and through the merits of our Lord and Savior, Jesus Christ. Amen.

ACT

Near the end of his speech, Frederick Douglass states: “Allow me to say, in conclusion, notwithstanding the dark picture I have this day presented, of the state of the nation, I do not despair of this country. There are forces in operation which must inevitably work the downfall of slavery.” What is your understanding of the history of slavery in the U.S.? Where do you see racial discrimination and inequities today? How can you be part of the solution and not part of the problem?

UNITED THANK OFFERING INGATHERING COMING IN JULY

Dear Parishioners,

It goes without saying that this past year has been difficult for everyone. There has been loss, stress, isolation, fear and uncertainty inserted into our everyday lives and through this entire pandemic you have kept your hearts open and continued to support our families and staff with your generous donations.

A simple note of thanks does not seem to be enough to recognize all your kindness but it is all we have to offer. Thank you all for your continued support and making this year a lot brighter for everyone here.

With much gratitude,
The Families and Staff of
The Village at Catawmet

CELEBRATING GOD'S CREATION: Caring for this corner of the earth

REUSE YOUR OWN CONTAINERS FOR LIQUID CLEANERS!

I was at the farmers market last Thursday and there was a new vender who is selling cleaners, dish soap, and many other liquid items. The exciting part is that she has industrial size pump bottles to refill your own bottles and spray-type containers. She will weigh your bottle; you refill it, and then she weighs it again, and you pay for contents. She will be at the market every two weeks. So, the next time she'll be there will be July 1st. I don't know about all the brands she has, but some are the "safe" brands that we see at the stores. Not sure about prices on the products. I was in a hurry that day. But I am going to try her out. I have been collecting so many containers that it will be great to reuse them. I sometimes buy the larger containers to refill my own spray containers, but then I own another plastic bottle! So, check the new vender out. She also has items for sale made from recycled materials. I am planning to try it out. Let me know what you think if you do too.

WAYS TO SAVE THE PLANET – Simple Things Can Make a Difference

Anyone can create a welcoming haven for local wildlife. Turning your yard, balcony container, garden, schoolyard, work landscape, or roadside greenspace into a Certified Wildlife Habitat® is fun, easy, and can make a lasting difference for wildlife.
